Pam Leinmiller

President, Vertical Vision

(pronounced Line –miller)

Pam Leinmiller is a mountain climber, runner & equestrian. And, in her day job, she is a coach, speaker and strategist who cuts through to clarity. Pam has expertise in IT and sales - and her real superpower is communication. She works with technical minds to translate complex issues. She guides teams and leaders to see clearly from a different perspective and connect with colleagues who do not "fluently speak geek." Bottom line, Pam may not move mountains – but she helps people know how to navigate them. Please welcome Pam Leinmiller!
